OCTOBER 2026

Oil prices were turbulent during September, ranging between $86 and $104/barrel. Gold and silver were relatively stable at $4,340 and $65 per ounce respectively.

Our Rand held firm at R16.17/$ on average.

The real hype now is on AI stocks and their threat to global systems if they are allowed, or choose to go rogue.

Can you imagine machines deciding on how they should behave? While this sounds like science fiction, it is present day reality.

We all need to be ultra careful when dealing with apparent calls from our bank or service providers. Machines sound just like people, but now they are smarter.
